

Write down one true detail before it fades.

Not the big things. The small ones — the smell of their fur, the exact sound they made when you came home, the way they sat in the patch of sun in the afternoon.

When you're ready, save it privately at rainbow-meadow.org.

rainbow-meadow.org/first-crossing

Write down one true detail before it fades.

Not the big things. The small ones — the smell of their fur, the exact sound they made when you came home, the way they sat in the patch of sun in the afternoon.

